

Drunkenness

The flesh vertigo

attached to the public image submission that wants its individual appearance to be different than the motherhood one is the indo European instinct of an avatar of Vishnu as a boar the animal that tries to find for eat worms that gnaw and destroy the growing culture such an amalgam of a fire that never stops with the spirit without belief that keeps everything for a personal property and every cave of the earth for a sexual habit of an eternal sisterhood that refers at the anthropological decay of an agrarian prostitution for the primitive design of a rebirthing nature.
